Notable features:

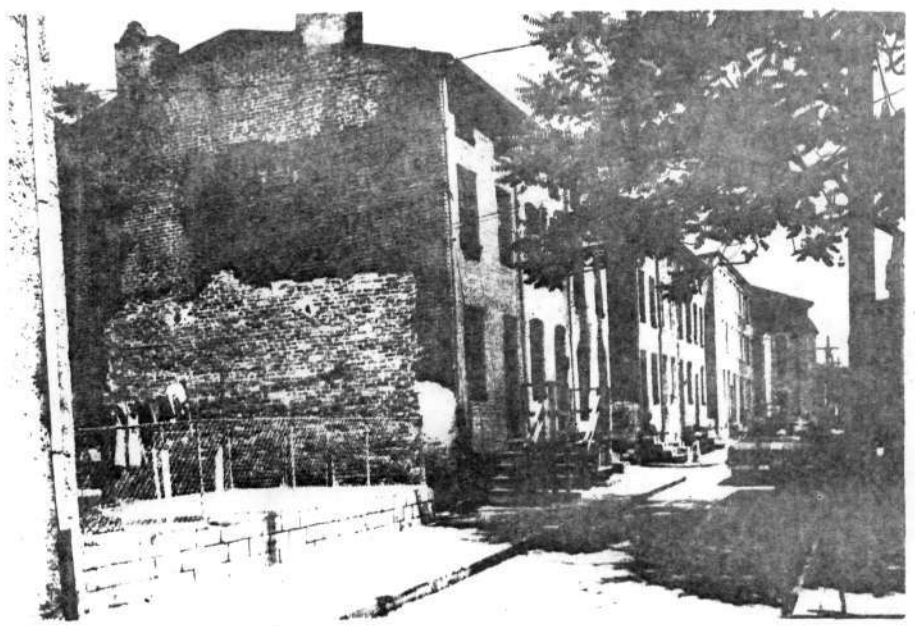

These houses, or others similar in scale to them, appear on the 1851 maps. This enclave of modest housing was established before the adjacent streets were built up.

The sallyport between 118 and 120 and 2½ story gable form indicate early date.

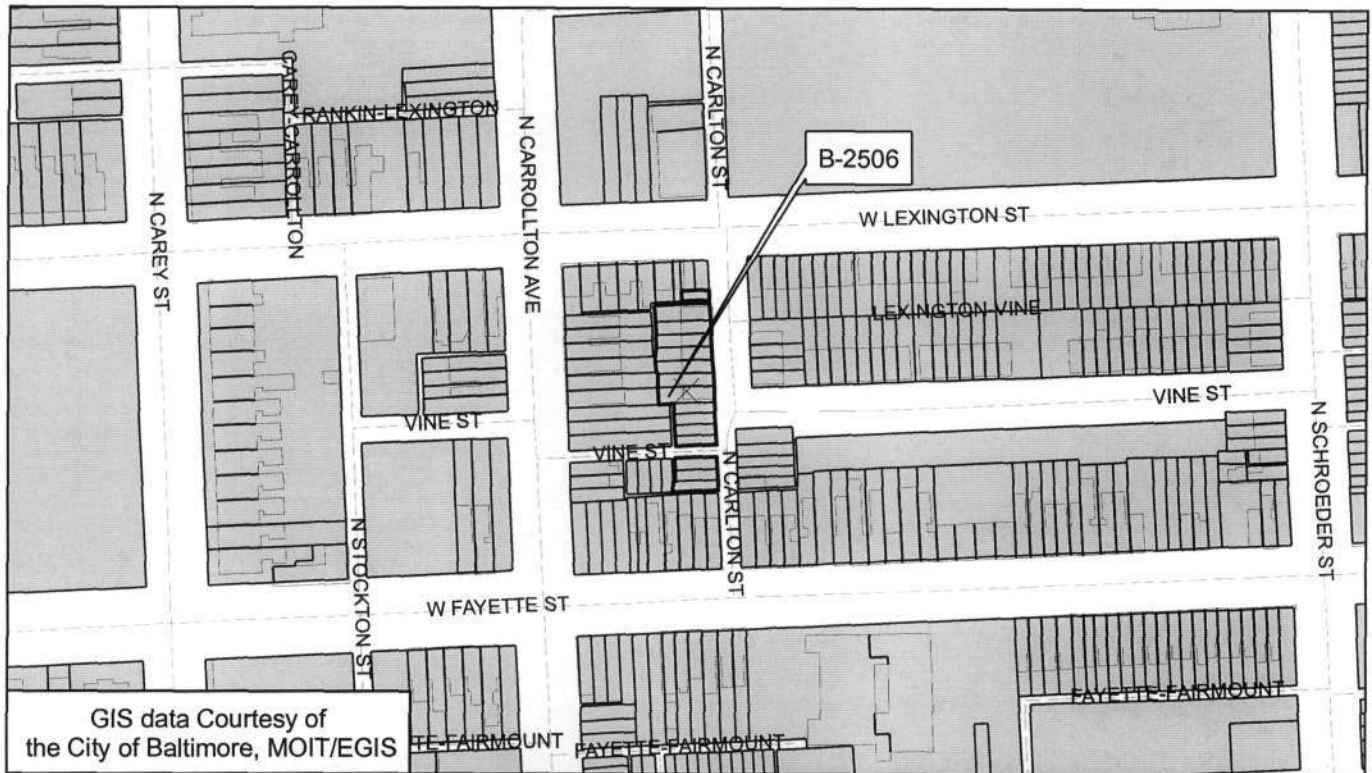

These houses are in bad condition, but they could be rehabilitated as small dwellings. The street, though narrow, is quiet and if well maintained could be pleasant.

Environmental context:

The building at 132 has been recently demolished and one at 116 is gone. Vacant houses are numbers 106, 118, 120 and 130. Narrow street with little traffic and one tree offers potential of pleasant living place. Could use more trees and better maintenance.
